FROM THE CANTOR

As I sit to write this article, I am at the same time completing arrangements for our Purim celebration that will take place in just a few days. But my mind is as much on the Haggadah as it is on the Megillah. For Pesach takes a great deal of preparation, and you just can't wait for the last minute. But then, preparing for Purim isn't exactly a cakewalk either. I mean, it's down to the wire and I have yet to decide what costume to wear, or whether to buy hamantaschen filled with mon or prune lekvar. (Those were the two favorites in my home growing up and I have yet to develop a taste for others.)

But to be sure, preparing for Pesach is on a whole other order of magnitude. There is cleaning, shopping, cleaning, planning for the Seder, and did I mention cleaning? But what really gets to me most is that Pesach arrives so quickly after Purim, and I never have enough time to finish eating all the shalach manos treats. Before you know it, it's time to dispose of all the chametz! Would it not have made more sense to set Purim just a little earlier in the calendar, or alternatively, to push off Pesach to a later date? Instead we have the annual circumstance of having to recover from ad d'lo yada in time to prepare for the race to ma nishtana....

Yes, Pesach does require lots of work, but doesn't every endeavor of value and substance require effort? And does not Pesach deserve the extra effort because it commemorates arguably the seminal event in the history of our people—the Exodus from Egyptian bondage, which then brought us to Sinai and then, after a forty year delay, to the Promised Land. Furthermore, the Seder is said to be, in our day, the most observed ritual in Jewish life, playing a central role in bringing and keeping us together.

And so on March 25th, the first night of Pesach, TBOBT will hold its annual Community Seder. We will journey through the Haggadah, drink four cups of wine, ask many questions, sing some songs, and enjoy a delicious, traditional, full course meal. Above all, we will celebrate our freedom as a people together with family, friends and community.

Wherever you choose to have your Seders, may they be joyous and uplifting occasions. I extend to everyone my best wishes for a Zissen Pesach and a Chag Sameach!

Cantor Steven Stern

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Shalom,

If we had no Winter, the Spring would not be so pleasant. If we did not sometimes taste adversity, prosperity would not be so welcome. This month we welcome Shabbat Across America, our New Member Shabbat Dinner, and our Community Seder. We all realize that the significance of Passover lies in the fact that it acts as a reminder to our Jewish community of the struggle that our forefathers had to face in order to create the land of hope and happiness. On Monday, March 25, 2013, our community and Temple Beth O'r/ Beth Torah family will get together to remember who we are and why we are here.

Audrey and I wish your families a Zissen Pesach.

Yours truly,

Howard M. Silverman
President

SISTERHOOD PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Yasher koach to Fern Cammy for putting together the Sisterhood Shabbat on January 25, which coincided with the Tu B'shevat Seder. Even though the turnout was smaller than expected due to the weather, all who attended enjoyed and participated.

A big thank you to everyone who ordered Shalach Mones baskets and/or certificates. This project would not have been possible without the hard work of Joleen Fridson who handled the shopping and Helene Davis for all the bookkeeping. If you still owe money, please get it to Helene as soon as possible. We also want to thank all the Sisterhood members who helped put the baskets together at our February meeting. The next Lord & Taylor benefits day will be April 30. Tickets will be available after March 1. The cost is $5.00, which entitles you to a variety of coupons good at the Westfield store. For each ticket purchased, Sisterhood members receive $1.00 in donor credit.

A note for income tax deductions: For every ShopRite or A&P voucher purchased, Sisterhood makes 5%. Therefore, people are entitled to claim that 5% as a charitable contribution. People can call Esther Schlesinger to see how many vouchers they purchased last year.

The next board meeting will be March 4 at 8:00 PM. The next general meeting will be April 17 to close the books. I am sure that most of you are preparing for Passover as you read this article. My co-presidents and I hope you enjoy being with friends and family as you celebrate the Seders and have a zeisen Pesach.

FROM THE MEN'S CLUB PRESIDENT

The year is flying by. Purim is behind us and Pesach will be here soon.

And on the heels of Pesach we have Yom HaShoah. During March we will be distributing the Yom HaShoah Yellow Candles. These, like any yahrzeit candles, are lit the night before. This is also our biggest fund raiser for the year. Please consider a donation when you receive your Yom HaShoah candle.

I hope you did not miss our paid-up membership event, a "Men's Club night out". If you did not pay your 2012-2013 dues, get a head start by sending in your dues for 2013-2014 fiscal year. Do not miss out on our Mens' Club paid-up membership men's night out. Remember, dues form the foundation for our award winning programming.

Our project to redo the parking lot lines is on hold until the weather turns warmer and we will announce the dates we will be doing this. If you would like to join with us and help, please call either of our co-executive VP's, William (Bill) Hausler or Theo Moreines.

Watch your mail for the paid-up membership program that will be here shortly and our calendar for the remainder of the year. Have a zeisen and freilich Pesach

B'vrachah,

Respectfully submitted by,
Michael F. Goldstein, President, Men's Club

Pesah Guide

Kashering of Kitchen Appliances and Utensils

It is customary (and easiest) to remove the utensils and dishes that are used during the year, replacing them with either new utensils or ones used year to year only for Pesah. This is clearly not possible for major appliances and may not even be possible for dishes and utensils. There is a process for kashering many, but not all, kitchen items thus making them kosher for Pesah. The general principle used in kashering is that the way the utensil absorbs food is the way it can be purged of that food (Ke-volo kakh pol-to). Thus utensils used directly on a fire need to be kashered by fire (libbun), utensils used in cooking require boiling (hag'alah) and utensils used only for cold food are kashered by rinsing. Specific items are covered below.

a. Earthenware (china, pottery etc) cannot be kashered. However fine translucent chinaware that was put away clean and that has not been used for over one year, may be used after washing. The china is then pareve and may be designated for milchig or fleishig use.

b. Plastic items generally may not be kashered. Consult your Rabbi for specifics.

c. Metal utensils used in a fire must first be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned and then must be subjected to direct fire. A blow torch and a self-cleaning oven are two ways to accomplish this purging (libbun). This is a complicated and potentially dangerous procedure and may result in discoloration of the metal being purged. Exercise caution when performing libbun. Metal baking utensils cannot be kashered because they require direct fire and this will warp them.

d. To kasher metal pots used for cooking and eating and silverware and utensils wholly of metal not used for baking, thoroughly clean the item, then following a strict 24 hour waiting period, where they are not used, immerse the item (hag'alah) in water at a rolling boil. For pots and pans, clean handles thoroughly. If the handle can be removed, do so for a more thorough cleaning. Each item must be completely exposed to the boiling water to accomplish hag'alah. Pots and pans are either immersed in a larger pot of boiling water (may be done one section at a time) or filled with water brought to a rolling boil and then a heated stone is dropped into the pot such that the boiling water overflows to cover the sides of the pot. In the case of silverware every part of each piece must be exposed to the water at a rolling boil. Following this process, each utensil is rinsed in cold water.

e. Ovens and Ranges – every part that comes in contact with food must be thoroughly cleaned. This includes the walls and top and bottom of the oven. Then the oven or range should be heated as hot as possible. The oven should be heated at maximum heat for an hour; the range top until the elements turn red and glow. Then parts of the range top around the elements that can be covered should be covered, usually with aluminum foil. Self cleaning ovens are put through the full cleaning cycle while empty. Following this process the oven should be again cleaned to remove any ash. If the oven was very dirty to start, two cycles may be needed to assume a thorough cleaning.

f. Smooth top electric ranges present a challenge. We recommend cleaning the top thoroughly and then turning on the burners to maximum so that it heats as hot as possible and then carefully pour boiling water on the surface area around the burners.

g. Microwave ovens that have no convection option should be thoroughly cleaned. Then an 8 ounce cup of water is placed inside, the oven is turned on until the water almost disappears (at least 6 of the 8 ounces is gone). Heating to complete dryness may damage the oven. A microwave oven that has a browning element cannot be kashered.

h. Convection ovens are kashered like regular ovens. Make sure to clean thoroughly around the fan.

i. Glassware is a subject about which the authorities disagree. One opinion requires that glasses be soaked in water for three days, changing the water every 24 hours. Another opinion requires only that the glasses be scrubbed and cleaned thoroughly or run through a dishwasher. Glass cookware is treated like a metal pot. See above for procedure.

Glass bakeware like metal bakeware cannot be kashered.

j. A dishwasher needs to be thoroughly clean including the inside area around the drainage. Then a full cycle while empty should be run with kosher detergent. After 24 hours of not being used the dishwasher is again run empty for the purpose of kashering. The dishwasher and the racks are pareve following this process. For enamel coated dishwashers, consult a rabbinic authority.

k. Other electrical appliances can be kashered if the parts that come in contact with hametz are metal and are removable, in which case they may be kashered like all other metal cooking utensils. If the parts are not removable, the appliances cannot be kashered. We recommend whenever possible that small appliances be used that are strictly for Pesah thus avoiding the difficulty of kashering these appliances.

l. Tables, closets, and counters should be thoroughly cleaned and covered for Pesah. The coverings can be contact paper, regular paper, foil or cloth that does not contain hametz (e.g. been starched with hametz starch). Alternatively, boiling water may be poured over the counters after they have been thoroughly cleaned. The use of this alternative method depends on the material of which the counter was made. Below is a list of materials for countertops that the Chicago Rabbinical Council affirms may be kashered for Passover. It is important to note that these materials may be kashered only if they are not stained, scratched, or cracked. Surfaces with a synthetic finish also must be cleaned and covered as they may not be kasherable. For questions contact a rabbinic authority.

Common Brands:

Avonite, Buddy Rhodes, Caesar Stone, Cheng Design, Corian, Craftart, Formica, Gibraltar, John Boos, Nevamar, Omega, Pionite, Silestone, Spekva, Staron, Surrell, Swanstone, Wilsonart, Zodiaq

Common Materials:

Acrylic, Granite, Marble, Metals (stainless steel, copper), Plastic laminate, Polyester Base, Quartz resin, Slate, Soapstone, Wood, butcher block

m. A metal kitchen sink can be kashered by thoroughly cleaning and scrubbing the sink (especially the garbage catch), letting it sit for 24 hours and then carefully pouring boiling water over all the surfaces of the sink including the lip. A porcelain sink cannot be kashered, so Pesah dish basins and dish racks must be used, one each for milchig and fleishig.

n. Non-Passover dishes, pots, utensils and hametz food that have been sold as part of the selling of one's hametz should be separated, covered or locked away to prevent accidental use.

Foods and Food Stuff

The Torah prohibits the ownership of hametz (leavened grains) during Pesah. Therefore, we arrange for the sale of the hametz to a non-Jew. The transfer, mekhirat hametz, is accomplished by appointing an agent, usually one's rabbi, to handle the sale. It is a valid and legal transfer of ownership. At the end of the holiday, the agent arranges to repurchase the items on behalf of the owner, since the hametz is again permitted. If ownership of the hametz was not transferred before the holiday, the use of any such hametz remains prohibited after the holiday (hametz sheavar ha-Pesah). Since the Torah prohibits the eating of hametz during Pesah, and since many common foods contain some hametz, guidance is necessary when shopping and preparing for Pesah. An item that is kosher all year round, and that is made with no hametz, and is processed on machines used only for that item and nothing else may be used with no special Pesah supervision. White milk would be an example of such a product. In most cases however, since we do not know enough about the processing of products or the sources of ingredients products ought to have Pesah supervision. Those who wish to follow other opinions should check with their Rabbi. What follows is a general guideline. All kosher for Pesah items must have a label indicating the name of a recognizable living supervising Rabbi or kosher supervision agency. Items that have a label that is not integral to the package and does not indicate the product and current Pesah year, should not be used without consulting your Rabbi. Prohibited foods include the following: leavened bread, cakes, biscuits, crackers or coffees containing cereal derivatives i.e. anything made with wheat, barley, oats, spelt or rye. Any food containing these grains or derivatives of these grains (the five prohibited species for Pesah) are forbidden. Foods containing flavorings, which may be derived from alcohol produced from one of these grains which would be hametz, need Pesah supervision. Ashkenazi Rabbinical authorities have added the following foods (kitniyot) to the above list: e.g. rice, corn, millet, beans and peas. These and other plant foods (e.g. mustard, buckwheat and sesame seeds) are not permitted on Pesah. Although many rabbinic authorities have prohibited the use of peanuts and peanut oil, our Movement's Committee on Laws and Standards has permitted their use and consumption on Pesah provided said items have proper kosher certification and no obvious hametz. Most Sephardic authorities permit the use of all the kitniyot foods other than those that might have come in contact with the prohibited grains. The further processed products whether liquid or solid from kitniyot are also forbidden by most rabbinical authorities. These might include but not be limited to: corn sweetener, corn oil, soy oil and ascorbic acid (vitamin C). Israeli products are often marked "contains 'kitniyot'" and, thus, Ashkenazi Jews who do not use kitniyot need to be vigilant when purchasing Israeli products.

Permitted Foods:

a. The following foods require no kosher l' Pesah label when purchased before or during Pesah: fresh fruits and vegetables that have not been coated (the supermarket is required by the FDA to have a list of such products), eggs, freshfish from a kosher source and fresh kosher meat or frozen, raw hekshered meat other than ground products as ground products with prohibited materials could be made on the same equipment.

b. The following products require reliable kosher l'Pesah certification (regular kosher supervision being not sufficient) whether bought before or during Pesah: all baked goods (matzah, Pesah cakes, matzah flour, farfel, matzah meal and any other products containing matzah, canned or bottled fruit juices, canned tuna, wine, vinegar, liquor, decaf coffee, dried fruits, oils, frozen uncooked vegetables, candy, chocolate flavored milk, ice cream, yogurt, all cheeses and soda. (These restrictions hold for Ashkenazic Jews; for Sephardic Jews, the presence in some of these products of kitniyot but not hametz may not present a problem.

c. The following foods require no kosher l'Pesah label but do require Kashrut supervision if purchased new and unopened before Pesah: natural coffee without cereal additives, non-confectioners' sugar, pure tea (not flavored herbal or decaf tea), salt with no iodine, milk (in the absence of a kosher Pesah alternative), frozen uncooked fruit with no additives, and baking soda.

d. Any processed food bought during Pesah must have a kosher l'Pesah label.

e. Any detergent, because it is not a food and it is not eaten, may be used for Pesah as long as it has valid kosher supervision.

f. Medicines: Since hametz binders are used in many pills, the following guidelines should be followed: If the medicine is required for life sustaining therapy, it may be used on Pesah. If it is not for life sustaining therapy, authorities differ in their approaches. Please consult with your Rabbi. Capsules, because they do not need binders, are preferable to pills.

Sale of Chametz Form

The Torah prohibits the ownership of chametz (leaven) during Pesach. Therefore, we arrange for the sale of the chametz to a non-Jew. The transfer, mekhirat chametz, is accomplished by appointing an agent to handle the sale. It is a valid and legal transfer of ownership. At the end of the holiday, the agent arranges for the reversion of ownership of the now permitted chametz. If ownership of the chametz was not transferred before the holiday, the use of this chametz is prohibited after the holiday as well (chametz sheavar alav haPesach.)

Optimally, one should sell the chametz to the agent in person. If this is not feasible, kindly fill out the following contract and return it to the synagogue office no later than MARCH 22.
